Personal VMR

Each TPaaS virtual room, whether personal or enterprise, has a public SIP URI address.

The addresses usually have this structure:

- Personal room: name.join@call.tpaas.es/pt/it/eu
- Enterprise room: name@call.tpaas.es/pt/it/eu where “name” is customizable.

Calls to personal and enterprise virtual rooms can be made at any time, since they are 100% always available. You can call this type of rooms with applications and videoconferencing equipment, that is, if the guest user has a video endpoint (H323 and SIP) or a video software client (PC, laptop, tablet or mobile, both iOS, like Android).

First, we identify ourselves in the web platform with our device account (not user) and access “VMR Management” (1), in the side menu.

We can assign a name (2) and set a PIN code (4 digits) (3).

There are 4 available layouts to choose from (in the Layout tab) (4).

Invitation to personal VMR

Below this section, we have the option of inviting external users to our VMR. How? By entering their email address (5).

Once filled, click "Send invitation" (6). Below this box you will see the email addresses (7) and access URLs (8) that have been created over time. If you wish, you can delete the old records and revoke access to the VMR (9).

Cliente Demo has invited you to join a video meeting.

How to join this meeting

Just click the following button.

Join meeting by video device

If you have either a video endpoint (H323 or SIP) or a video client (PC, laptop, tablet or smartphone, both iOS or Android) call the following address:

vms.demo.1@call.tpaas.es

If you can only dial IP addresses

If you have an H323 endpoint, you can join by calling an IP address:

- Call the following IP address: 62.82.98.16
- Enter the meeting number: 125143, followed by the # key

Beware that the link could not be available if it was deleted by its owner.

Mail Message

The guests receive an email message. To join the call, just press the blue "Join" button (10). By clicking on this button, users access the URL of the meeting and they will see a screen like this: (11)

Personal VMRs have the "Receive a call" function. By selecting this option, when a guest user joins our room, we will be notified automatically. (12)
